Subsequent year prices shall be based on that of the year immediately preceding plus either (1) eight percent or (2) the increase in the Consumer Price Index during the year immediately preceding, whichever is greater. Each increase, after being computed, will be rounded up to the next whole dollar to arrive at a monthly or yearly price. This Agreement may provide monthly payments as an accommodation to Client to facilitate budgeting and cash flow planning. Payment shall be due and payable at AccuWeather Sales and Service office in State College, Pennsylvania at the beginning of each contract month or contract year without notice. In the event the CPI were to exceed an eight percent annualized rate, AccuWeather Sales and Service would have the right to calculate price adjustments more frequently than annually. If Subscriber fails to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement, including but not limited to, failure to pay the fees that are due and owing, AccuWeather Sales and Service will have the right to notify Subscriber of such failure and Subscriber will have 30 days to cure such failure. If the failure is not cured within the 30-day cure period, AccuWeather Sales and Service will have the right to terminate this Agreement at any time thereafter immediately upon notice to Subscriber.

D. Term. This Agreement shall remain in full force and effect for the period specified on the front hereof, beginning on the specified Starting Date and it shall remain and continue in full force and effect for subsequent periods equal in length to the original term hereof or one year, whichever is longer, unless written notice of termination is received by one party from the other party at least sixty (60) days prior to the initial expiration date of any subsequent expiration date. Time is of the essence of this paragraph. If an initial free trial period was granted, such free trial period shall not be carried into a renewal period but is time that shall be considered as part of the initial term. If a Length of User Agreement is indicated as more than one year but less than two years, the renewal term shall be one year at a time.
